Business outline

To the next phase by improving as a professional of safety cover

Yasunari Bankin Co., LTD. is one of the few companies which is specialized in development, design, and manufacturing safety cover in Japan. They're founded with architectural sheet metal in 1950, they shifted to be a professional of safety cover to improve manufacturing premise after witnessing many industrial accidents in factories during Japanese high growth of economy. They're capturing market of various safety covers such as blower, agricultural equipment, and home appliance with using technology maintaining strength and weight saving as their assets by their unique processing method. In recent years, they started enhancement of labors and facilities from the voice of their clients that "We want to entrust processing other than safety cover as well." While the number of metal processing companies in Japan is decreasing. They're trying to move to the next growing phase by getting out of "specialist" which is also their strength.
